REMARKS:

I am returning the attached papers for your files. I guess the buck slip with the Director's initials needs no explanation. Mr. Rusk said "no" and that is that. I see no choice but to continue to operate with the safeguards we have already discussed and take a careful look after each mission with a view to reopening this question if things get as bad as I am afraid they might. Since we have all had a chance to soak on this for a bit, I would like another conversation with you and your people at your convenience on exactly how we intend to proceed.
